Team Cymru redefines company ethos

Internet research company changes slogan to reflect evolving role.

Burr Ridge, IL – February 15th 2011 - A Chicago based IT Security Research company launched a new slogan: "Insight that Improves Lives", underlining a shift in the company's approach to combating Internet crime.

Jeff Vosburg, Chief Operating Officer, acknowledged that the focus has evolved away from specific intelligence on malicious individuals and their acts, as defined by the term 'Who and Why':

"Our Services, both commercial and those offered at no cost to the IT Security Community and Internet users, are now so much more than just the who and why of these crimes: our feeds and focus is increasingly about the wider aspects of when, where and how."
